

ABSTRACT

A scented toilet paper roller is sealed and encompassed in a metalized wrapper. The scented toilet paper roller includes a first roller half and a second roller half. The first and second roller halves are telescopically joined and form a hollow roller chamber. A compression spring is disposed within the hollow roller chamber. Scented beads are disposed within the hollow roller chamber. Scented oil is disposed on the scented beads. The roller halves have a plurality of vents therein. The roller halves can be thermoplastic.
